FINANCIAL. The strikes have produced no appreciable effect on money affairs here; although the eck has included the fourth of the month, dullness has marked every day of it. The only change to be noted is an increase in the mand for money, and the extreme case of demand for money, and the extreme case of the market is likely to disappear. Rates still quote 8@10 per annum. The New York Tribune said on Friday: "The range of rates for paper that has any sale at all is 8 to 12 per cent. The discount of gold paper is 1@2 per cent. heavier than ten days ago, being 5 to 7 per cent. for double-named, with little doing below 6 per cent, and 6@8 per cent. for single-named. The tendency of discounts is strongly toward heavier rates, and this tenstrongly toward heavier rates, and this ten-dency will be rather increased than diminished during the remainder of the year. our market exchange is in light supply with a small demand; on New York and the east uoted par buying, ¼ premium selling; Fall liver, par; New Orleans ¼ discount selling, Sep 5. Typing at par. The New York Heruld, of Sep 5. The New York Her brying at par. The New York Heruld, of Friday, reports: "The following were the rates of exchange on New York at the undermentioned cities: Savannah—buying ½, selling ½ premium; Charleston easier, ½ @3-16 discount, selling 5-16; Cincienati very firm; buying, 50 discount to par; selling 50 premium; New Orleans—commercial 1-16 @1½, bank ½; St. Louis, 50 discount; and Chicago 50 premium." Gold in New York yesterday moraing quoted 105½; here 104½ @105¾. The New York Tribane remarks: "Naturally the question arises, how much coin d-es the government hold, in excess of the sum reported, as a special fund for the redemption of called bonds? That it must hold no inconsiderable amount, as an offset to the new four-per cents which have been issued, but are not reported in the settlement, seems clear." During the week the local market has been very dull; about $5000 or $6000 of Memphis gas stock sold during the week, including $3100 on Saturday at 97½; earlier in the week 98 was obtained for two lots, amounting to about $1000. ots, amounting to about $1000. Our weekly cotton review at the end of the last commercial week quoted middling cotton in New York at 12 5-16c; it declined during the week to 11 7-16c; New Orleans declined from 11 4c to 11 4c, Liverpool from 6 5-16d to 64d, Memphis from 114c to 11c. This statement shows that the last week, like the week before, has been a declining one, and the drooping tendency was strong at the week's conclusion. As the Liverpool circulars and the comparative receipts had long shown that the supply of cotton would be short toward the end of the season, the low task of the weight was now as a season. state of the market just now is greatly disap-pointing to the holder, and, what is worse, is very discouraging to the planter, whose crop ill begin to come in within another month. ign market, troubled with war prodings and stagnant trade, is depressed, I the cotton crop reports are deemed favoravored the bears, whose operations have been isted by two days holiday in Liverpool, ving the market of reports from this The New York Bulletin's last weekly "The influences upon the market during the week were hardly of a direct or positive character, yet sufficient to infuse feverish, uncertain tone, and give the buythe cables reported Liverpool in a condition by no means satisfactory to operators for a rise et conflict with calculations based as mentioned above, and closed steady at the ipon the tenor of the advices received on ing day of the preceding week. In addition to this also, the crop accounts, while not exactly showing an inprovement, were ertainly no worse, and had about exhausted emselves as a stimulus, and failed to add orther to the line of purchases for investent. Finally come the 'strikes' and their results, which have directly or indirectly had influence throughout the entire Union. The simple checks to transportation or danger to supplies in transit were of no great cotton at this season, as on one side the crop had been too nearly marketamounted to only temporary inconvenience, and on the other side the distribution could ed and depended upon railroad tacilities so that a check to receipts would have e conducted largely by water-routes or ever railroads on which possibilities of trouble were considered very remote. The trade, wever, looked upon the existing and in-ng turbulence as of deeper and more seous import than a mere attempt of railway uployes to obtain redress for imagined The manner and form of developand the lawless proceeding the mobs were construe indicating the guiding hands of reckless spirits endeavoring to stir up a general labor revolt throughout the entire country, and through this, if possible, the overthrow of law and order. The nervous fear growing out of this view of the situation resulted naturally in increased offerings in order to sell out and withdraw, and the 'bears,' improving the opportunity to hammer rates, succumbed materially along the entire line. Early there was a decline of just 1-16c, and then \(\frac{1}{2} \text{gc} \), with pretty good offerings of stock and some little pressure to realize. This resulted in an increase of business on foreign account, The following are the official telegrams of the condition of the domestic markets as re-Lutest State of Recipts Sales. The following shows the week's movement

The cotton market yesterday (Monday) was again on the decline. New York, Memphis and New Orleans were all 1/2c lower. The decline of 1/3c in New York, added to a decline of 3-16c on Saturday and the other declines before that, was extremely depressing.

In our market there was a fair inquiry, under the circumstance, but it was difficult to find the grades wanted, the demand running on the fine qualities. Weighed down by the heavy influences, the market again gave way, GENERAL TRADE. The general market during the week has been fairly active, for the season, in groceries and provisions; other merchandise has been generally dull, for to the usual stagnation of "fly-time" has been added the interruption to the transit of railway freight by the strikes. 21%c.

Corn has been quiet all week, with less firm refined, ness, owing to a material decrease in the demand for it; ear corn has fallen out of demand, and sold at 56½ and 57c; yellow shelled usually 60c and white 61c, with 61½c for choice; at those rates about 400 sacks were on the market yesterday; in store, 63@ mand, and sold at 55% and 54c; yellow shelled usually 60c and white 61c, with 61½c for choice; at those rates about 400 sacks were on the market yesterday; in store, 63@ 65c. Oats appear to have no friends, for they were offering yesterday in vain; sales have been made at 37@42c; for a car-load of lllinois oats 37½c was offered yesterday; in store, 48@50c. Bran has sold at $12.50, at which it is very weak, with little demand; corn-bran has brought $11; apparently corn-bran will soon be higher than wheat-bran, for the mills are busily engaged grinding wheat, while the production of corn-bran is decreasing; wheat-bran in store, 80@85c. Hay is little heard of at $10@16; superior, $18@19; prairie, $8. Cornmeal is sectining, in consequence of a great falling off in the country demand; sales of spot yesterday were at $2.85; on Saturday about 1000 barrels were for choice; at those rates about 400 sacks were on the market yesterday; in store, 63@ 65c. about Saturday week.

Billy Anderson, second clerk of the Commonwealth, being sick when that boat arrived here, Billy Means, of this city, took his place temporarily, and will make the trip to New Orleans and back. A dispatch from Omaha yesterday contains the following concerning the changes in the river at that point: "Since the river changed its course a heavy current has been setting in toward the Nebraska shore, which, it is thought, is endangering the smelting works and the Union Pacific shops. The Umon Pacific company are now making strong ef-forts to turn this current toward the lowashore, by riprapping, and for the purpose o hauling stone to the spot a temporary track was laid this morning. About three e'clock about two hundred feet of this track was ers and movements of steamers will be found washed into the river, and a force is kept at work night and day to avert the threaten The Hattle Nowland. The Hattie Nowland, Captain James H. Reese's new and pretty Arkansas river pack et, arrived in port yesterday, and is perfect in all that has been claimed for her. We think the Arkansas river will have to dry up ntirely if it would try to keep the Hatt from running and carrying all the freigh she wants. The Hattie Nowland is owned phis and Arkansas river packet ompany, in which Captain Reese, her con largely interested. She was built at Pittsburg expressly for the company, and combines all the latest improvements and advantages especially adapted to the navigation of Arkansas river at all seasons of the year. She takes the name of the pretty sting little daughter of Capt Nowland, formerly part owner and commander of the Governor Garland. The following lowing are the dimensions of the Hattie Now-land: Hull 180 feet, 35 feet beam, 3½ feet depth of hold; extra timbered and fastened, being built staunch for cotton purposes. She is 13 feet between decks, giving her a well-proportioned appearance. Her cylinders are 13 inches diameter, 5 feet stroke, combining all the latest and most approved improvements, including the Reese patent cutoff. She carries also an extra steam fire-pump, thus making disaster by fire next to impossible. She has a battery of three boilers 22 feet long, 36 inches diameter, 2 flues each, and made of the best maleable steel. Her whee is 16 feet diameter, with buckets 25 feet inches in length. Her cabin is a real beauty to a boat of the Hattie's dimensions. staterooms are large and roomy, and fitted up with tasteful bed-room sets instead of the old style bunks. Those in the ladies cabin are especially to be admired for the various items of convenience and comfort. In the ladies cabin will be found also an elegant upright Chickering piano. The texas is very large for so small a boat, combining besides comfortable quarters for the officers, a spacious cabin and staterooms for the colo traveling community. A large barber-shop wash-room and splendidly furnished pantry in which is a stationary steam table, complete the prominent features of the Hattie's ap-pointments which combine to make her perhaps the best adapted steamboat ever built for the Arkansas rivertrade. Her officers are: Captain James H. Reese, commander William T. Butler and James Dowling clerks; Andy Stapleton, mate; William Haines and Matt. Downs, pilots; William H Boland, chief, and Harry Reese, assistant en-gineers; Harry Shearer, carpenter; Frank P. Smith, steward; Joseph Smith, saloonist. A visit to the Hattie Nowland will well repay the time spent, and as she is a Memphis institution, we are satisfied she will, in th hands of her gentlemanly officers, become among the most popular packets running in-to this port. She leaves on her first trip to Arkansas river at five o'clock this evening.
